

Photos by Gina Fontana

Scenario I

Henderson Mental Health Center to host 70s-themed celebration

On March 5 at Hyatt Regency Pier 66, guests will be treated to a complimentary cocktail reception at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner and dancing at 8 p.m. to celebrate the Henderson Mental Health Center with a 70s-themed party.

While platform shoes and double-knit polyester are optional - as are the hustle, bump, and boogaloo - a silent auction loaded with trips and merchandise, plus music and professional dancers from Platinum Gold Entertainment, are sure to excite partygoers.

Dr. Steven Ronik, Henderson's CEO, said "Our annual celebration is our signature fundraising event. Everyone who attends not only has a great time; they also know they are making a big difference in helping the mentally ill, a very underserved, vulnerable population. We also wish to thank Mrs. Lorraine Thomas for being our premier benefactor. Lorraine's support means so much to our organization and the people we serve."

Proceeds from the event will support the center's mission to help the more than 20,000 families Henderson serves each year in south Florida.

Local businessman and veteran civic activist, Alan Levy, will be honored for his dedication to improving the south Florida community through his many associations and leadership roles.

Journal commemorations or event tickets, $175, may be arranged by calling Andria Nolan, director of development, at 954-777-1624 or by visiting www.hendersonmhc.org.

Gale Butler, left, and Steve Ronik

Marvin Chaney, left, Jen Klaassens, and Alan Levy

Robert Field, left, and Richard Kinzer

Jen Klaassens, back left, Hiram Montero, Gale Butler, Marvin Chaney, Burnadette Norris-Weeks, Steve Ronik, and Alan Levy; Richard Kinzer, front left, Carol Harrison, and Robert Field

Hiram Montero, left, Carol Harrison, and Burnadette Norris-Weeks

SOCIETY BROWARD • BR

Special Marketing Section

Sun Sentinel

Wednesday, February 16, 2011

SOCIETY BROWARD

SunSentinel

A Marketing Publication of Sun Sentinel Company

HENDERSON MENTAL HEALTH CENTER

6, 2011

